

STENUNGSBADEN
Yacht Club

FIRST SEA CHARTS, THEN CHEESE TARTS

Behind the hotel, the dense forest provides a magnificent backdrop. The pine trees, their tops waving gracefully in the breeze, cover most of Stenungsön island and stretch all the way to the feet of the Tjörnbron bridge. In front of the hotel, the Hakefjord glitters as the sleekest of the elegant sailing boats carve their foaming wakes.

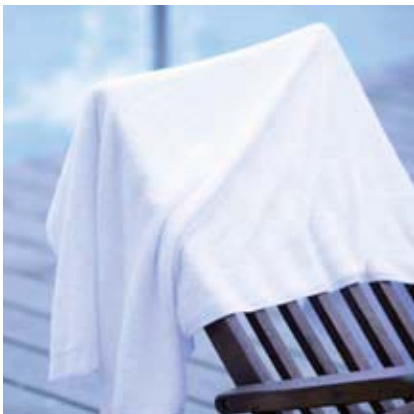

Stenungsbaden Yacht Club is a welcoming place; certainly not as pompous or pretentious as its name might sound. Of course, this is a truly excellent spot for sailing aficionados and those who like the lifestyle of the American east coast. However, in saying that, we do also emphasise that Stenungsbaden is a relaxed, put-your-feet-up type of yacht club.

Yachts people often come here, but so also do other visitors who seek nothing more than a fine lookout over the sea and, perhaps, to have their palettes tickled by saffron-spiced fish soup.

SALT, SEAWEED AND THE ODD DINGHY

The Bluewater Sports & Health Club opens in 2008 and, in all probability, will be the only wellness centre of its type. We are already confident of this. Besides plenty of space for training sessions, there will also be many outdoor activities such as rowing and dinghies. In our world, these are the best forms of training.

The Bluewater Sports & Health Club will also be offering a plethora of relaxing and therapeutic treatments. It goes without saying that the focus will be on salt, seaweed and natural seawater.

MEETINGS AND PEOPLE

Conferences at Stenungsbaden Yacht Club benefit from more than just modern well-equipped facilities. Highly inspirational surroundings and a considerable range of activities add that little extra edge. Ever since opening, we have concentrated on being an innovative meeting place for both large and small companies. We can receive group events of up to 1,500 people, drive cars into the presentation room and even accommodate a symphony orchestra should you so wish. In a nutshell, it is only the outer walls and imaginations that set the limits.

For those who want to challenge themselves, or each other, or to build team spirit, or simply to burn off energy, we have some forty activities to choose from. A few are purely physical; others test your grey cells or your ability to work as part of a group. Common to all of them is that they usually lead to infectious laughter.

VILLA J C STEVENS – THE HOTEL IN THE HOTEL

Villa J C Stevens is where you come when you want to have a whole house entirely to yourself. To give you a picture of what it is like, imagine that a good friend has invited you for a stay. A friend with the good taste to offer you cognac in front of a roaring fire. A friend who has his or her own chef humming and chopping away in the kitchen. A friend whose taste includes walls with in-built loudspeakers and a parade of Ralph Lauren wall coverings. A friend who, at breakfast, fixes the scrambled egg and heats the milk for the coffee.

The villa can accommodate 14 overnight guests, each with a uniquely furnished room. When you are here, everything is included. From breakfast to dinner and everything in between. Obviously, this takes in lunch, refreshments and an open bar. All of this is provided quite simply because we believe conferences and social get-togethers go better when the participants feel relaxed. Just as if they are at home.
